Annual Publication of the
HANDLEY HIGH SCHOOL

SENIORS

Fort Worth, Texas

FOREWORD

The 1957 Greyhound Staff takes pleasure in presenting to the students of Handley High School this book, a pictorial record of the work, play, and of friendships enjoyed throughout this year. We have endeavored to represent every phase of school life here at Handley High.

We, the staff, wish to express our appreciation for the help and cooperation which we have received from the faculty and students in publishing the Greyhound of 1957.

DEDICATION

L. B. PARKER

We, the Senior Class of 1957 wish to dedicate our annual, The Greyhound, to you, L. B. PARKER. You have won the respect of the students with your talents for educational advancement. Because of your strength of character, remarkable leadership, and consideration for your pupils, we dedicate this book to you.

The 1957 Greyhound football season was a success. Perhaps not in a standings but in personalities. There are few boys who participate in athletics who do not gain in character from it. The Greyhounds this year are no exceptions. Also, working together as a team has brought each player closer to his teammate and made many friendships which will outlast by far all sport participation. The 1957 Greyhounds can easily assume the last season as a complete success.

CLASS PROPHECY

Good evening, ladies and gentlemen this is MIKE AMBROSE, your MC for this evening's long awaited class reunion of the Seniors of "57". Tonight's activities are originating from the sidewalk entrance of the newly completed Davis Hotel, where we hope to see the guests as they arrive. Our show is being televised over station WHHS-TV.

The first is the hotel owner, HAROLD DAVIS, giving final instructions to Head Chef, JOE MOSS, who recently won acclaim for his pinto bean sandwich. Florist CHARLES REA and MIKE RITCHEY seem to be in an awful hurry to make those last minute floral arrangements.

The first guest, CAROL SCHILDER, editor of Pawley Publications, chats with her boss, RONALD PAWLEY, and Chief Artist and Designer AUDREY DAVIS. Coming into the camera's eye, we spot none other than JIM HIETT, winner of an Oscar for his production of "Midget", the story about Rhode Island, accompanied, as always, by his wardrobe consultants, RICHARD WALBURN and RONALD JONES.

Following this group are GAIL CLOWDUS and ELAINE SMITH, now giving each other a close race for an Academy Award for best actress. JERRY BECKHAM, known as the hottest flute tooter in the jazz kingdom, is talking over sharps and flats with JERRY RUTLEDGE, conductor and arranger for the New York Symphony Orchestra. Dogging the musician's feet are REGGIE LYLE, PERRY TONG, and HARRELL MOTEN, career men in the navy.

What's making all that noise? On closer inspection we see it's a group of "57" grads. They are WOODIE NEAL, JEWELL FIELDING, WANDA FISHER, DOROTHY ROBBINS, JO ANN BROCKMAN, JERRY BALES, PATSY RENNELS, and GEORGIA GOTHARD, the best secretaries to the tycoon of the big business world, HAROLD BURNS.

Now coming into view, we may be able to pick up DOUG HART and JOYCE HACKNEY as they demonstrate their big game hunting techniques to JACKIE PRIDGEON, head of the English Department of the Fort Worth Public Schools and JEAN ROBINSON, wife of a well-known naval officer. Seemingly not too interested in the demonstration is NELL SMITHERMAN, TV writer of commercials for Rutledge peanut butter. Speaking of TV, several fellow grads who have made good in this field are just coming into view. Pretty BONNIE KINSEY, who recently replaced Miss Frances on Ding-Dong School, JERRY BOB MORRIS, chief tester for Moten's Bubble Gum and LEO NALLEY, the new "Buckeye Beaver" on Mickey Mouse Club.

Here comes JOE KIKER and ELMO CLOUD professional piano tuners talking shop with CARROLL TRIMBLE, district distributor for banjo picks.

YVONNE MIDDLETON, first woman all-around rodeo champion of 1967, is telling DAVID LYNCH, owner of a seven-acre ranch in the Yukon, and BOB BLAKEMAN, the president of Blakeman Steel Co., about her appearance in Madison Square Garden.

DON JOHNSON, famous exterior decorator, is escorting JANE GRAY, cosmetologist, SANDRA DAVENPORT, home economics expert, and DON CAMPBELL, potato peeler for Nieman's Dept. Store cafeteria. DAN BECKELMAN, forest ranger, is escorting SHARON and KAREN COLE, the owners of a western gopher ranch.

Following this group is DON BERGERON, Air Force pilot, telling Colonel DOUG HILL, head of the Strategic Air Command, and HOMER BOSWELL of Hollywood, famous hair stylist, how he pulled his plane past the heat barrier.

Making their own conversation are NATALIE JORDAN, wife of the coach at Podunk A. & M., CAROL ALFORD, who is now married and living in California, DIANNE JOHNSON, wife of an oil tycoon, and YVONNE BRANCH, "Mrs. Banana Boat of the Year."

Dental assistants NELDA JEANES and BEVERLY JENKINS are exchanging important information about tooth decay.

Who could this be stepping out of that sleek foreign car? As she comes into view we see it's GLENDA WALKER, who, we understand, is the first lady president of the Bell Telephone Company. She is accompanied by JOYCE STOCKTON, a highly successful Wall Street Banker, JERRY MOORE and CARO LEE BROWN, airline stewardesses, and ADELL WILSON, who just recently set the world hot-air balloon altitude record.

Just passing our microphone is KENNETH JOBE, board chairman of Slenderella, Inc., with his sleek advertising model, HELEN WINTERS. VERNON ROBERTSON, world famous hot-rod driver, seems to be amusing them with his description of his most exciting race at Salt Flats.

Directly following are BILL BRITT, KENNETH BARNARD, and JERRY TAYLOR, who have recently consolidated to gain control of Tidy-Didy diaper service. DALE WOODRUFF, known as Arthur Murry the second, explains the latest dance craze to JOHNNY AITKEN, world acclaimed for his new concept in bird cage design.

Pulling up on our right is TERRY SCHROEDER, famous for his work as MC of Zoo Parade, which, by the way, may be seen on this channel. Accompanying Terry is JERRY ADAMS, Metropolitan Opera Star, DAVID HARRELL, Jerry's Manager and DOUG BRANCH, director of "Branch Endeavors".

Please hold back your screams, girls, and we realize this may be difficult, because here comes that new teenage singing rage C. W. DEAN, discussing finances with his business manager, PHIL ROBBINS and his autograph stamper JOE HAMMOND.

Prominent figures in the world of sports are now making their way toward our mike. They are LARRY DAILEY, head coach of marble shooting at Arlington State, JOHNNY BOBO and RAYMOND FARAIZL, pro basketball players. Raymond, by the way, is giving Wilt "the stilt" a close race for the scoring championship.

We now have IRIS LOCKETT, owner of a famous pest control agency conferring with RUTH BECK, commercial artist for the new trade magazine, "Rodents Can Be Rambunctious." Also in this party is BETTY BRUCE, winner of a Pulitzer Prize for the best musical of the year and her leading dancer LINDA LINVILLE.

DOUG BURRAGE, world renowned archaeologist seems to be engrossed in a conversation with rain makers C. M. CANTRELL and EDGAR CLARK over the possibilities of changing the Sahara desert into a kingsize swimming pool, in which olympic swimming star JOHNNY BILL YEATS can train.

Here comes an extra large group consisting of WILLIE and STANLEY AUSTIN, who were voted the couple of the year. LOWELL CURTIS and TOM ROPER who recently returned from a trip around the world on a two-seated bicycle, which was fortunately equipped with water wings for ocean travel.

SANDRA McKENNA, LINDA MANLY, and LYNDA McMAHON, together recently formed the world's largest wrecking yard, Consolidated Junk.

This brings to a close the first chapter of our reunion. We hope each of you has enjoyed it as much as we enjoyed bringing it to you. This is MIKE AMBROSE for station WHHS-TV signing off.
